Pontiac, Mich., May 14.—(P)—Astracked 2,000 feet in the air by an alcohol-ravaged man, a bomber, Henry reged maniac with a hammer, Harry Anderson, a commercial pilot, after losing consciousness and nose-diving to within a hundred feet of the ground, recovered in time to partially right his airplane and avert destruction here tonight.

Harry Frechette, 28, of Detroit, whom police believe to be deranged,

Both men were taken to a local hospital, because of injuries sustained in the forced landing near here. Neither was seriously hurt and as soon as Frechette recovers sufficient-

Anderson told police that as they approached Pontiac Freshette obtained a hammer and began to belabor him.

"I must have been unconscious for some time—probably more than a minute," Anderson said, "for when I came to we were headed in a nose dive. I jerked the controls and tried to right the plane, and managed to slow its pace. Just as I was swinging out of the dive I felt the wheels of the undercarriage touch the ground for some distance and then the ship went over the nose."

The plane was demolished but the occupants miraculously escaped serious injury. Anderson was more severely hurt by the hammer attack than in the wreck. One blow had knocked out most of his teeth and because of the difficulty with which he was able to talk hospital officials refused to permit his being questioned at length.

Frechette refused to answer police when queried regarding the attack. A letter addressed to a Miss Georgia Pardee, of Pontiac, found in his clothing, read: "Death is my message, sweetheart."

The letter continued in terms of endearment to the addressee and said that the writer feared the approach of death.

Other letters, one to his mother in Detroit, indicated he had been employed by the Pacific Coast Aero Circus as an exhibition pilot.

BANKER ASSAILS STATE HIGHWAYS

Robert B. Cunningham, vice president of the Atlanta and Lowry National bank, resumed his desk at the bank Monday after a well earned three weeks' vacation which he spent in an automobile trip through Florida, accompanied by Mrs. Cunningham.

"I read with a great deal of interest," said Mr. Cunningham Monday, "the editorial in Sunday's Constitution about the highway situation in Georgia and I agree with every word of it. In pointing out the necessity for a thorough road system in this state, and deploring the lack of it, The Constitution is doing a public service that should meet with the approval of everybody in Georgia who understands the handicap under which this state is laboring in its inadequate system of highways.

"Leaving Atlanta three weeks ago we spent more than two weeks in Florida, going to every part of the state. We never traveled a bad road in Florida. Highways traverse the state, north and south and east and west, all paved. We never had to stop a single time on account of bad roads in traveling more than a thousand miles in Florida.

"Upon returning home we inquired carefully about the best road to Macdon on the way to Atlanta. We were forced to stop three times between the Florida line and Macon on account of the bad condition of the roads. In several places we found automobiles bogged on what is considered a main thoroughfare between Macon and the Florida line. In more than one place mules were pulling automobiles out of the mud and yet this was on a main highway that splits Georgia north and south and over which thousands of people have traveled between the west and the south during the past winter.

"It is an injustice to the state that there is no through highway either north or south or east or west. It is damaging the state and the sooner public sentiment realizes this, and insists upon the adoption of a system that will give the state more than one state highway north and south and east and west—and we have none now—the better it will be for the state.

"I am not blaming the highway department nor accusing it of inefficiency, for the state itself is responsible for the system under which it is operating, and it is for the state to change that system and adopt in its stead one that will give Georgia a network of through state highways."

INJUNCTION TO HALT VIADUCT APPROACH WORK DISSOLVED

A temporary injunction order granted Walter H. Brown, Atlanta attorney, in preventing the MacDougal Construction company from obstructing the entrance to a building on the southwest corner of Pryor and Hunter streets was dissolved Monday by Judge John D. Humphries, in Fulton superior court.

Mr. Brown asked the injunction on the ground that viaduct work would interfere with tenants entering his building, as well as obstruct the entrance to his law offices on the second floor. A few hours after the order was revoked the sidewalk had been torn up along the Hunter street entrance to Mr. Brown's building, in continuance of construction of the viaduct approaches.

EXPERT OPTIMISTIC ON COTTON OUTLOOK

Athens, Ga., May 14.—(Special.)—The following bulletin on the condition and outlook for cotton in Georgia has just been released by E. C. Westbrook, cotton and tobacco specialist of the Georgia State College of Agriculture:

There has been much concern for the last few weeks about the condition of the cotton crop. The weather has been cold and wet, which is very unfavorable for getting a stand of cotton. However, the few days of warm sunshine the first week in May greatly improved the condition of the cotton. In southern Georgia farmers have cultivated their cotton as soon as the soil was dry enough to permit this, together with a few days of sunshine, has caused cotton to stop dying and to begin growing. Much cotton was planted the first week in May in the northern half of Georgia. The rains that followed will cause the seed to germinate promptly, and if we have a period of warm sunshine rapid development may be expected.

There is no doubt but that in the sandy soils of the southern half of the state much of the soluble nitrogen in the fertilizer has been leached down to the subsoil by the heavy rains. Not all of this has been lost, but much of it no doubt will not be available to the crop until later periods of growth, when the root system will develop to the extent that the roots will extend far enough to reach the nitrogen that has been carried downward. Therefore, there is danger that growth for a few weeks will be slow unless additional readily soluble nitrogen is applied. A side dressing of some readily soluble nitrogen, such as nitrate of soda, would stimulate growth and help the crop to overcome the stagnant condition that much of the cotton is in. It would also feed the crop until the root system could reach the nitrogen that has been carried downward. We believe that a side dressing of some readily available nitrogen such as nitrate of soda at this stage would be very beneficial. It will not only stimulate rapid growth, but would also stimulate early fruiting, which with the well watered outlook, would be very desirable.

The phosphoric acid and potash have not leached very much and it will not be necessary to make a second application of these elements. If liberal amounts were applied before planting, the side dressing of nitrogen should be made as soon as possible after the cotton is large enough to be cultivated. We believe that with a little sunshine and a side dressing of readily soluble nitrogen cotton will improve very rapidly.

We have seen very little evidence of boll weevils, but enough to know that as will have to be kept on hand and be ready to give the pest a dose when he shows signs of activity. The indications of the pest at this time are that early poisoning, especially in the southern half of the state, will be very profitable this year. The season is in the hands of the wintered weevils should be out before any squares are formed for the weevils to lay eggs in. Therefore if poison is applied just as the squares form, it will be possible to clean out the wintered weevils to the extent that at least a bottom crop of cotton can be obtained and if the weather is fairly dry in July and August it will be possible to get a good top crop also.

Another Victim Of Homerville Shooting Is Dead

Waycross, Ga., May 14.—(Special.)—Jim Lee, Clinch county farmer, one of three persons shot Saturday night at Homerville, Ga., died in a hospital here today. His wife, from whom he had been estranged, her sister and Lee were sitting on the porch.

After the shooting, Chauncey called the sheriff and asked to be arrested. While Chauncey took full responsibility for the shooting, sheriff's deputies said they were seeking Lawrence Chauncey, a cousin for questioning in connection with the case.

Take a Spring Tonic for a very GOOD REASON

You feel sluggish—lack pep—appetite gone, you do not care to eat when you should enjoy your meals—pimples and boils may appear. You need an alternative tonic.

Why it should be S.S.S.

Because S.S.S. is the one remedy tested by time and perfected by science, which has been demonstrated by the experience of literally millions of satisfied users and by scientific tests in clinical laboratories to increase the appetite and build up to normal the count of red cells in the blood. This is the true basis of health and strength—the bright eyes, the clear unblemished skin, the glow and joy of bodily vigor, and resistance to disease.

When your system is filled with rich, red blood, you don't have that tired, languid feeling when you awake in the morning. Instead, you feel refreshed, ready to meet the world.

Your appetite is keen—you enjoy work or play—your skin is clear, cheeks naturally rosy.

All this because rich, red blood builds and sustains the body.

All drug stores sell S.S.S. in two sizes. The double size is more economical.

Tabernacle Members Are Urged To Attend
Noon Prayer Meetings

A call to members of the Baptist Tabernacle congregation to attend noon prayer meetings daily this week as a feature of the revival was sounded Monday night by Dr. Will H. Houghton, the pastor.

In addition to preaching every night and singing a solo as part of the musical program, the tabernacle pastor meets with a large body of "personal workers" at the church at noon each day and leads a prayer session.

In his sermon Monday night on "What To Do With a Soiled Life," Dr. Houghton pointed to the Bible incident in which the woman of Samaria was brought before Christ for condemnation but who received his blessing.

"The world is slow to forgive the sinner and to forget his trespasses," the tabernacle pastor said. "But God forgets. When we once bring our soiled lives to Christ, the slate is cleaned and the sinner will not have to answer for past transgressions in the future day of reckoning."

Dr. Houghton will preach at 7:30 o'clock every evening except Saturday.

RIVERS WILL MAKE GOVERNOR'S RACE

State Senator E. D. Rivers, of Lakeland, Ga., announced Monday that he will make the race for governor in the democratic primary this fall as an opponent of Dr. L. G. Hardman. "I have declared that he would make public chief features of his platform in a statement to be issued later.

"It is an open secret throughout the state that the present administration in Georgia is a failure," he said. "Georgia deserves a clean-cut program of progress, sponsored by courage, energy and perseverance. The outline of such a plan of action I propose to give I shall submit to the people for their consideration and approval at an early date.

"It is my purpose to carry the message of this progressive program to every county in the state and to meet the people face to face, in the open."

Sensor Rivers served as president pro tem of the state senate at its last session. He was one of the leaders of the movement in the senate to prevent Governor Hardman from removing John N. Holder as chairman of the state highway board.

Governor Hardman announced Saturday that he will be a candidate for reelection as governor and would make public his platform later. The entry list for state offices closes June 23.

'Good-Will' Liner Leaves Atlanta For California

After enthusiastic welcomes at several Dixie airports, climaxed Sunday afternoon when it was crowded green the fliers at Candler field, the Western Air Express "good-will" liner hopped off at 9:30 o'clock Monday morning for New Orleans by way of Montgomery, Ala.

The giant Fokker monoplane, which carries 12 passengers and two pilots at 120 miles an hour, is one of three sister ships now flying different routes out of New York for the express. Here the planes will enter passenger service to San Francisco.

En route across the continent the airplanes, each of which cost $80,000, are demonstrating possibilities of passenger travel by air and distributing educational matter at 100 important American cities. The Guggenheim Foundation fund for promotion of aeronautics is sponsoring the tours.

Each of the ships embodies the latest developments of the science of aviation, providing comfort, speed and the safety factors. Three 425-horsepower whirlwind motors propel the ship, any one of them capable of sustaining flight.

A 74-foot wing spread enables the ships to land and take off at comparatively low speeds, while a dual control piloting system permits either of two men to take charge without shifting seats.

The plane is in charge of Fred Goddard, Western Air Express executive. It picked up newspapermen at various points from Washington south. Others of the passenger list were C. Z. Sutton, representing the California Development association, an organization comprising 500 civic clubs of that section.

OFFICERS PROBE WOMAN'S STORY OF BRUTAL ATTACK

City detectives Monday were investigating the story related by Mrs. R. G. Byrd, 27, 327 Pulliam street, who told Grady doctors she had been beaten by an unknown man who scooped her on Trinity avenue, near Pryor street, Sunday night.

Mrs. Byrd was treated for lacerations about the head and dismissed from the hospital. Although detectives sought to locate her all day, at a late hour Monday night Mrs. Byrd had not been located, officers said.

According to her story, Mrs. Byrd was on her way to visit a friend when the two men who were in an auto sought to engage her in conversation and, failing in this, one of them beat her over the head with a pistol.

DRIVER OF AUTO WHICH HIT CHILD POSTS $500 BOND

Luther S. Standiford, of 154 Peachtree Hills avenue, sought by police as the driver of an automobile which ran down 8-year-old Merwin Johnson Saturday night, Monday morning appeared at headquarters, where he posted a $500 bond on a reckless driving charge.

Mr. Standiford explained that he was on his way to the railroad station when the accident occurred near the child's home at 570 Highland avenue. Believing the little girl to be only slightly injured, the motorist saw her into another automobile for the hospital, then left the city to keep a business appointment in Alabama.

On his return Monday, Mr. Standiford read of the search in a newspaper and reported at headquarters, he told officials. Meanwhile the child is reported as recuperating at Grady hospital, where she was taken after the accident.

O'KEEFE JUNIOR HIGH PLAY WINS HEALTH CONTEST

"Constitutional Rights," written and acted by students of O'Keefe Junior High school, won the first prize of $50 in the contest sponsored by the Atlanta Tuberculosis association for the purpose of increasing interest in health problems among high school students, according to the decision of the judges Monday.

The contest was open to all high schools in Fulton and DeKalb counties and is given each year. Hoke Smith Junior High won the second prize of $25, with "Save the Boy," and the third prize of $10 was awarded to "Pearls of Life," by the students of Bass Junior High school. These plays have been entered in the national contest held each year in New York by the National Tuberculosis association.

Fair and Warm Day Promised By Forecaster

Fair and warmer—the call to the swimming hole, the golf courses and the open road—fair and warm—barefoot youngsters and hatless collegiates—fair and warm—this is the forecast for Atlanta today as predicted by Atlanta's weather prophet, Charles F. von Herrmann.

A temperature range slightly higher than prevailed Monday is expected, with a possible maximum of 78 degrees and a probable minimum of 61 degrees. The range Monday was between 54 and 76 degrees.

The Washington, D. C., weather bureau reported Monday night that cloudy weather is slated for the city today, and that rain is probable for Wednesday.

PROHIBITION LAW VIOLATION COSTS JAMES HEARN $60

James Hearn pleaded guilty to two counts of violating the prohibition law Monday when he appeared before Federal Judge Samuel A. Sibley. Informed that Hearn had already served 12 months on the chain gang under a state court sentence on one of the counts, that of possessing two and a half gallons of whisky, Judge Sibley asked him if he derived any pleasure from the chain gang.

"No, sir. Not particularly," was Hearn's reply.

Judge Sibley remarked that Hearn would get sent back to the chain gang if he didn't watch out.

"Please, sir, don't do that," Hearn asked.

"I won't this time, but I will fine you $10," Judge Sibley said, assessing the small fine in view of the state court sentence on that charge. Hearn explained to Judge Sibley that he was leaving liquor alone, but had just bought a quart for his own use. On the charge of possessing a quart, Judge Sibley fined him $50.

Forget Fire— Save Upkeep

Build with Lone Star Concrete

WHATEVER you are planning to build, concrete will save you money. Concrete is fireproof—it cannot burn—lasts longer, is sanitary and beautiful. Upkeep is less. Repairs fewer. Insurance lower.

Engineers, architects and contractors will tell you the better the cement the better the concrete. For best results use good aggregate, just enough mixing water—and insist upon Lone Star Cement.

Before you buy your cement, ask the Building Material Dealer these four questions—the same questions engineers, architects and contractors ask when they buy cement. We give you the Lone Star answers.

1. Does the Cement exceed U. S. Government standards?
Every shipment of Lone Star Cement is guaranteed in writing to exceed U. S. Government standards. The Lone Star dealer, in turn, guarantees every bag to you.
2. How is the cement made?
Lone Star Cement is made by the famous International Wet-Blending Process, a process which has made cement-making an exact science and has established a new high standard of cement quality.
3. Is the cement uniform, bag for bag?
The chemical content of Lone Star Cement varies less than 2/10 of 1% in millions of bags—a new high standard of uniformity.
4. Are you certain to get delivery when wanted?
The 13 mills of the International System, with a capacity of 20 million barrels a year, assure "on-time" delivery, no matter how great the emergency.

It will pay you to buy cement on the basis of this comparison. Concrete will save you money. Lone Star concrete will save you more.

*The facilities of our Research Department, directed by Prof. Duff A. Abrams, are available to all users of cement. Write us your problems.

To MEN and WOMEN Who Think

Home ownership in Atlanta is no longer a myth or a dream. The "GARDEN HILLS PLAN" makes it possible for the average family to take the money they would ordinarily throw away for rent and purchase something more than a temporary shelter. It means the first step to happiness and financial independence. Many people will say, "But we cannot scrape up the first payment." True perhaps—it cannot be done overnight—but it can be accomplished by careful thought and planning. The Garden Hills plan takes all of these things into consideration, and even helps to overcome this bugaboo.

Read the following statement by Mr. Harry M. Paschal, vice president of the Atlanta Title & Trust Co.:

"Of considerable interest to speculators in vacant lots is the announcement of two more resales by lot purchasers in Garden Hills. In one case, a profit of $325 was realized, the lot having been purchased for $1,800 and resold for $2,125. In the other case, a profit of $650 was made by the investor, he having bought the lot at $1,800, reselling it at $2,450. Taking into consideration the fact that the lot purchasers had invested in cash only about 20 per cent of the purchase price of the lots, the profit is very great; the profit in one case amounting to 200 per cent on the investment, and in the other, 100 per cent."

Come out to Garden Hills! Now—while you are young, and your family will enjoy the beauty, the peace and the health of it. Buy a lot today. It means only a little cash and small monthly payments. Lay the foundation for a real home, with surroundings that cannot be surpassed; an investment protected for your lifetime.

High Heels

MRS AVERAGE SHOPPER would enjoy her shopping more if it weren't for the fact that the stores are now so far apart. And high heels do make it hard walking between the Whitehall section and Peachtree.

Her motor-car eliminates the walking, but it adds worse problems-- parking, traffic, actual danger!

To pass through the maelstrom of Five Points now, except on a street car, is enough to ruin the whole day. And Mrs Average Shopper, being a sensible woman, simply goes to the nearest car stop, gets on a car-- (they come along practically one every minute)-- and rides comfortably, safely, restfully, to the other shopping district.

She gets a few moments of rest en route, and is ready to tackle again her important job of selecting the family merchandise. As a matter of fact, when you think it over-- that's the only way she can relax for a few moments during a shopping day, without wasting her really valuable time.

And so Mrs Average Shopper uses the street cars for convenience--

plus the economy of it

Commissioners To Seek Additional Federal Aid For Highways of State

Resolutions Prepared for Macon Meeting Asking Congress To Build More State Roads.

Macon, Ga., May 14.—(Special).—Members of the Georgia Association of County Commissioners from all over the state were in Macon late Monday and other arrivals were expected Tuesday for the annual meeting of the membership here Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

Officials declared this year's meeting will be one of the most important gatherings in the history of the organization. Numerous matters of extreme importance are to be brought before the commissioners, chief among which will be a general proposal for an improved, unified system of roads and highways.

Lewis Vickers, commissioner from Coffee county, plans to introduce a resolution to the membership which he is confident of adoption, calling for the establishment in the cabinet of the president of the United States of a good roads department. It will further propose that all roads and highways composing the transportation arteries of the country be built, financed and maintained by the federal government.

Under the terms of Mr. Vickers' resolution all roads in a given state which lead from county seat to county seat would be given financial aid by the federal government "to the extent of at least 50 per cent (said lines to be selected by the state highway department) of first cost and thereafter to be maintained by the state in which the roads are constructed."

This, the resolution states, "will enable the United States in case of invasion to mobilize the entire resources of the country by using the hard-surface roads in conjunction with the railways and motor transportation."

In view of the numerous heavy trucks that traverse highways throughout the states, the resolution of the Coffee county commissioner would provide that the president and those associated with him in the highway division of his cabinet be authorized to appoint a committee of five members whose duties it would be to investigate, compile, low weights and assemble various other data from all states with a view of securing uniformity of highway laws. Appropriations would be asked of congress for the purpose of organization of a roads and highways association in every state, which would solicit members and provide for an educational campaign to further good roads movements.

To Petition Congress. Mr. Vickers' resolution would create a committee of the present membership in the association of county commissioners, who would go to Washington while congress is in session and seek to carry out the adopted policy relative to national regulations of highways.

It shall be the duties of the committee, the resolution concludes, "to insist upon our senators and congressmen at Washington providing such law or laws as they may deem proper for more federal aid road mileage to be provided and distributed by the state highway department for the state of Georgia in connection with the federal government and other states of the union; to promote the interest of the many great states of this union; to enable the great work of the federal aid system to be continued, built and maintained through the many states; in the southern states such requirements as might be needed according to the wishes of the senate and congress at Washington to cooperate with the state highway departments, which will further the interest of the south in the work which is so much needed at this time to bring about an equalization of this work already done by the federal government in the northern states; which will enable all the states to mobilize in case of the invasion of war for the benefit of transportation and transferring soldiers over the many sections."

Mr. Vickers declared Monday afternoon that he was busy preparing numerous other resolutions bearing on road and highway improvement, as well as a number of propositions relative to several other phases of state-wide improvement.

The convention will go into session at the Biltmore county court house tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock, when R. J. Kennedy, president of the association, will call the convention to order.

Registration will begin at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning at the Hotel Lanier, where the convention headquarters are located. Seven motorcades from all parts of Georgia will arrive during the morning, bringing about 200 delegates to the convention.

The seven motor groups and their leaders are:

No. 1, from Savannah, under Captain W. H. Wright; No. 2, from Augusta, under Wallace Pearce; No. 3, from Atlanta, under Walter B. Stewart; No. 4, from Thomasville, under J. Frank Pittman; No. 5, from Milledgeville, under J. S. Dunn; No. 6, from Athens, under J. H. Griffith; and No. 7, from Cherokee county, under Olin Fincher.

NYE WOULD TEAM SOUTH AND WEST

Washington, May 14.—(AP)—In a coalition of the south and west, Senator Nye, republican, North Dakota, sees a means of ending what he terms the "rule of absolutism" of the industrial northeast.

Writing in the current issue of "Plain Talk," Nye declares that the entire economic and political structure is designed for the benefit of the section east of the Mississippi and north of the Ohio and Potomac rivers.

"It is quite apparent that most of the abuses in governmental administration have one common ancestor," the article says. "They are the spawn of the current system of financing political campaigns—particularly national campaigns. So long as a candidate must depend upon contributions from a few wealthy men and a few great corporations for the funds with which to conduct his campaign, just that long will the abuses and corruption persist. It is time the American people realized that campaign contributions are given for value received."

Lays Down Warning.

Laying down a warning that unless the east ceases to regard the south and west as "colonies," these sections will either separate or take over the country themselves, Senator Nye terms the former course unworkable and unfeasible, but points out that the west and south have the numerical strength in congress to control the government.

The "solid south," he says, has been an obstacle in affecting the coalition to which he refers, but, already the combination is beginning to function in legislative matters.

"If this favored group of states in the northeast," continues Senator Nye, "persists, through the use of exorbitant campaign fund contributions to dominate the affairs of the nation, there is just one recourse open to the rest of the country."

Take Away Advantages.

"That is to take from this section the economic advantages which enable it to buy and hire parties and buy elections."

He points to the tariff as the "most obvious point of attack, and asks 'what would happen to the industries and what would happen to their excess profits now available for campaign contributions,' if the farmer should rewrite the tariff schedules 'with the sole view to equalizing his selling market with his buying market.'"

The North Dakota senator also called for a revision of tariff rates and liquidation of the national debt. The "only way" in which the latter could be achieved, he said, is "by increased taxes and since taxes will produce no money unless they are levied upon those who have money, no gift of clairvoyance is required to foresee where that axe would fall."

DEKALB TO VOTE FOR NEW SHERIFF TO FILL VACANCY

Decatur, Ga., May 14.—(Special.) With political feeling whipped to a keen edge, DeKalb county today was prepared for the special election to be held Wednesday to select a successor to the office of sheriff, made vacant recently by the death of J. A. McCurdy, who had held that post for 15 years.

Three candidates comprise the field, with Mrs. McCurdy, widow of the former sheriff, having announced her support of J. R. "Jack" Hall, acting sheriff and present county jailer. Besides Mr. Hall, Captain J. H. Allison, of Decatur, and S. L. Smith, of Stone Mountain, are in the race. All three have expressed the utmost confidence in the outcome of the ballot, which is expected to be the largest polled in years.

Mothers at Constitution-Howard Matinee

When the box office opened Monday at the Howard theater for the annual Constitution-Howard theater Mother's day matinee for all mothers 50 or more years old, Peachtree street in front of the theater presented this appearance. The matinee was so well attended that many hundreds of mothers waited until later performances to view the attractions at the theater as the guests of The Constitution and the theater management.

With more than 2,500 mothers of Atlanta assembled, lining Peachtree street in front of the Howard theater from Ellis street to the Pryor street intersection, many minutes before 11 o'clock, The Constitution's annual mothers' party at the Howard theater Monday was acclaimed one of the biggest successes of the past few years.

The largest gathering of mothers assembled this year in Atlanta thoroughly enjoyed every item of the elaborate program of entertainment provided at the palatial Publix house, and the current bill which presents "Easy Come, Easy Go," starring the magnetic Richard Dix, and the Publix stage show, "Rainbows," was pronounced by all a delightful entertainment.

All mothers 50 years of age or more were invited as guests of The Constitution, and it eagerly looked like all of them within a radius of 30 miles accepted the invitation.

Women from the Old Ladies' Home, attending through the courtesy of Mrs. Horvitz, general manager of the Black and White cab company, were special guests of the occasion.

Many of the mothers, unable to gain admission at 11 o'clock on account of the huge crowds, returned later in the afternoon and were admitted with full privilege. The theater was packed to the roof with every seat occupied.

BAPTISTS MEET IN CHATTANOOGA

Chattanooga, Tenn., May 14.—(AP) Trains, automobiles and bus lines were bringing Baptists to Chattanooga today by the hundreds as auxiliary conventions were called to order preliminary to the Southern Baptist convention which will begin Wednesday with a prospective attendance of around 10,000 persons.

Delegates from 18 states and 14 foreign countries began informal registration while the Sunday school B. Y. P. U. field workers' association and the Women's Missionary union had 2 p. m. and 8 p. m., respectively set for the staccato click of the opening gavel.

L. H. Battle, chairman of the local housing committee, estimated that perhaps one-fourth of the delegates and visitors had reached the city. Most hotels had hung out the SRO sign and private citizens and boarding houses were caring for the overflow quota of visitors.

Among reservations for notables arriving today were those for Mrs. Ella A. Boole, president of the National Woman's Christian Temperance Union, and Dr. E. Y. Mullins, president of the Baptist World Alliance. A majority of executive officers and committee staffs had taken up headquarters at a downtown hotel, and the rest were expected to make similar arrangements tonight and tomorrow.

The Sunday school B. Y. P. U. field workers had before them a program of round table discussions and addresses by prominent Baptist educators and young peoples executives and were concerned chiefly with the "challenge youth offers the church."

L. W. Wiley presided over delegates representing 2,500,000 enrollment, with Miss Gertrude Coley, secretary, in charge of registration.

The women's missionary union today was occupied chiefly with committee meetings and program arrangements, presiding which Mrs. W. J. Cox, president; Miss Kathleen Maloney, secretary, and Mrs. Carter

Stomach Disorders First Revealed by Coated Tongue

Your tongue is nothing more than the upper end of your stomach and intestines. It is the first thing your doctor looks at. It tells at a glance the condition of your digestive system—and physicians say that 90% of all sickness starts with stomach and bowel trouble.

A coated tongue is a danger signal of those digestive disorders which lead to so many kinds of serious illness. It tells why the least exertion tires you out; why you have pains in the bowels, gas, sour stomach, dizzy spells.

Coating on the tongue is a sign that you need Tanlac—the medicine which has helped thousands who were physical wrecks from stomach and bowel troubles—who had "tried everything" in vain and about given up hope.

Officers To Probe Shelling of Boat By Coast Guard

Charleston, S. C., May 14.—(AP)—Lieutenant G. B. Lefberg, of Washington, and Lieutenant Paul Collins, of Charleston, coast guard officers, went to Beaufort this morning to make an official investigation of the circumstances surrounding the recent shelling by a coast guard force of a fishing boat, manned by Major Charles Elliott and Herman von Merten.

Chief Postmaster's Mate Carl Soderberg and his crew of the rum chaser No. 221 proceeded to the scene in their boat, from which the fishing craft was fired upon about two weeks ago, in an effort to halt the fishing boat.

The Beaufort men claimed they were fired upon without warning and that one shot had struck their boat. The coast guard version was that shots had been fired only across the bow of the other craft, after orders to heave to were unheeded. They deny any shots struck the fishing boat.

Former Georgian, 81, Returns ALEXANDER PALMER WANTS TO HEAR FROM KIN To Locate Relatives in State

Alexander Everett Palmer, better known as "Sandy" Palmer, 81-year-old longshoreman of Houston, Tex., and only son of 22 brothers and sisters of an old Georgia family, is in Atlanta today contemplating greeting younger descendants of the family whom he has never seen, but some of whom, he feels sure, reside in this city.

Mr. Palmer came into the office of The Constitution Monday upon his arrival and announced his quest for relatives. He believes he is the "most related man" in Georgia, having just returned from a visit to Augusta, where he made the acquaintance of a large number of kinsmen heretofore unknown to himself. Mr. Palmer plans to remain at the Kimball House for several days and hopes that Atlantans who can trace blood connection with the old Palmer family of Waynesboro, Ga., will communicate with him.

Mr. Palmer feels at home in the Kimball House because he recalls that some 40 years ago it was managed by Frank Arnold, who married "Sandy's" oldest sister, Laura Palmer. Two sons by this union, Milton Arnold and Garrett Arnold, are believed by "Sandy" to have children living in Atlanta now.

Mr. Palmer's last visit to Atlanta was 57 years ago, when he passed through on his way to Texas, to spend the remainder of his life. Previous to that "Sandy" had been in Atlanta as a youth of 17 years, standing shoulder to shoulder with comrades of

"Joe Brown's militia," with whom he fought in the battle of Atlanta and two other engagements. "Sandy's" most familiar sight in returning to Georgia was the view from the railroad passing near Stone mountain—here he could "see his regiment on retreat, passing along the road, the mountain to their left and the railroad to their right."

"Sandy" expects to have no trouble in living to the age of 100 years—and he has smoked and chewed all his life. Also, he thinks prohibition is ruining the country, not because he himself is interested, but because "thousands of females drink today who never would have thought of it if there were no prohibition."

The elderly longshoreman believes that the youth of today is more advanced, intellectually, than in days of yore, but the sight of today's flappers makes Mr. Palmer believe the race is degenerating. But he has no such feeling about the development of airplanes. He is convinced that in ten years they will supplant the automobile and that they are already safer to ride in than the automobile. "There is plenty of room to avoid accidents in the elements," "Sandy" said.

Air Mail Users Warned To Mark Letters Properly

Whenever an air mail stamp is not used on the envelope, even though the letter bears the correct amount of postage, the postmaster will not go by air mail unless the sender clearly marks the envelope with the words, "Via Air Mail." Postmaster E. K. Large warned Atlanta users of the New Orleans-Atlanta-New York route Monday.

Several distinctive types of envelopes have been approved by the government to make certain that air mail letters go via air mail when the air mail stamp is not used. One of these envelopes has a red, white and blue border, and has printed on it "Via Air Mail." Another has red, white and blue lines across the middle while on a third type, the sender marks two horizontal and two vertical lines across the face of the envelope with a blue pencil. A plain envelope will go by air mail if the air mail stamp is used.

Envelopes of these distinctive designs are not furnished by the post-office department, but any person may have his envelopes for air mail use printed according to the design he likes best.

The words "Via Air Mail" should be conspicuously written in the space immediately below the stamps, above the address. The air mail postage is 10 cents for each half ounce or fraction thereof, regardless of distance, this postage including the transportation to and from the air mail routes.

The special delivery fee for mail sent via airplane weighing not more than two pounds is 10 cents, over two pounds but not more than 10 pounds is 15 cents, and over 10 pounds, 20 cents.

Air mail will be accepted for registration upon the prepayment by postage stamps affixed of the registry fee in addition to the air mail postage. The registration fee is 15 cents for value up to $50 and 20 cents for value from $50 to $100 in addition to the air mail postage, and a 3-cent fee when a return receipt is desired.

Insured and collect-on-delivery mail (third and fourth class matter exclusively), even though the parcels are sealed, will be accepted for transportation via airplane. The rates of postage are the same as for other mail transmitted via airplane. The insurance and collect-on-delivery fees are the same as those for regular transportation of insured and collect-on-delivery mail.

FRIENDS OF BOWDEN WILL HOLD MEETING

The campaign committee of J. E. Bowden, candidate for reelection to council from the Fifth ward, will hold a political rally for voters of that ward at the corner of Bankhead avenue and Ashby street at 7:30 o'clock tonight. It is announced. All candidates are invited to speak.

NEGRO IS TAKEN FROM HALL JAIL

Gainesville, Ga., May 14.—(AP)—The fate of a negro prisoner who was spirited away early today by a band of unidentified men who broke into the city jail remained in doubt tonight as city and county authorities scoured the countryside in search of him.

Their efforts were spurred by the belief, based on the absence of any trace of his body, that he still was alive, although severely beaten or driven from the country by his captors. The theory also was advanced that he might still be in the hands of his captors and subjected to torture.

The negro, Henry Hood, 22 years old, was arrested yesterday afternoon on a charge of shooting Walter Merck, 19, member of a well-known family here, after their automobiles had figured in a collision on the Athens highway. Merck charged that Hood's machine was occupied by seven negroes, all intoxicated, who engaged in an altercation with him after the accident and shot him as he attempted to drive away.

Hood's assailants met with little difficulty in seizing their quarry beyond forcing the outer door of the jail. Members of the night police force were patrolling beats and the capture of the prisoner was not discovered until some time later. Three other negro prisoners walked out the unlocked doors after Hood had been spirited away.

House, incumbent, and E. A. Williams, candidate for twelfth ward alderman; A. P. Maslin and J. A. Smith for W. Garland Cooper, incumbent, and Solon Johnson, candidates for council from the tenth ward; John L. Cone for William A. Harnwell, incumbent, and Clarke Donaldson, candidates for chief of construction; J. W. Young for J. M. Pickle, L. D. T. Quimby, J. Ben Daniel, Steve C. Glass, candidates for city marshal; T. H. Fulton for P. H. Hendricks, candidate for superintendent of electrical affairs; P. B. Florence, incumbent, and E. A. McMurry, candidates for city tax collector.

Mrs. Alfred Bailey, president of the Atlanta League of Women Voters, has announced a series of three luncheons to hear all of the 53 candidates running for city office in the primary.

The first of the series will take place on Wednesday, May 16, at 12:30 o'clock at the Henry Grady hotel. The candidates for the following offices have been invited for the first luncheon: Mayor, chief of construction, city warden, city marshal, city electrician, tax collector, building inspector, city treasurer, city controller and city attorney.

All members of the league and their friends are invited to be present. Reservations must be made by telephoning league headquarters, Walnut 8472. Places are 25 cents apiece.

The introduction of the candidates will be prefaced by a brief sketch of their duties and general principles of city government.

"It is most inspiring to us who are interested in advancement of the Y. M. C. A. to note the development of your work during the past year," said P. M. Colbert, general secretary of the Y. M. C. King, regional secretary of the southern region. The canvassers are determined to obtain today the 172 additional members necessary to reach their goal.

WINE FOR BAPTISM OF BABY IS SEIZED BY CITY OFFICERS

When officers raided the home of F. G. Keyros, of 3522 1-2 Central avenue Monday night and found several gallons of wine there, Keyros explained that the liquor was intended for his baby's baptism.

His explanation failed to satisfy the officers, who confiscated the contraband and took their prisoner to Fulton county tower, where he was released in $1000 bond. Those taking part in the raid were Officers T. M. Leathers, A. C. Sinyard and W. B. Martin, and Deputy Sheriff W. C. Morris.

LEISTER IS NAMED ON EXECUTIVE BODY OF ATLANTA LEGION

Fred E. Leister has been elected to the executive committee of the Atlanta organization of the American Legion, to fill the place vacated recently by the resignation of B. M. Cobb, Jr. It was announced Monday. Mr. Leister has been actively engaged in legion work in Atlanta for a number of years and recently returned from Florida, where he was engaged in relief work.

Pitcairn Offers Prizes for Best Air Mail Slogan

As a feature of "air mail" week, May 14-19, operators of the Atlanta-New York line are offering prizes for the pithiest air mail slogan of 10 words, or less, accompanied by the most accurate estimate of next Friday night's mail poundage, it was announced Monday by officials.

First prize will be a 60-minute flight in one of the company's speediest planes; second prize will entail a ride of 30 minutes aloft and third 15 minutes, with one of the air mail pilots in charge.

Judges of the contest are Postmaster E. K. Large, Joe P. Johnston, postoffice inspector in charge, and Henry Graves, chief clerk of district No. 1, railway mail service.

Slogans and estimates must reach Pitcairn headquarters, at 1205 Fourth National Bank building, not later than 2 o'clock Friday afternoon. Decisions will be announced Saturday night at Candler field, and carried in the three dailies Sunday.

"Air mail" week marks the tenth anniversary of the service, and the third week of the Atlanta-New York and the Atlanta-New Orleans mail service. The southern lap is flown by the St. Tammany-Gulf Coast Airways Inc., planes, some of the newest and best equipped models in America today.

In addition to the mail service, between Atlanta and New Orleans, the St. Tammany concern operates a passenger service between Atlanta and Birmingham. At 5:30 o'clock each morning a cabin Fokker monoplane leaves Atlanta, arriving at Birmingham at 7:10 o'clock, and leaving there for the return flight at 4:55 o'clock in the afternoon.

Consider the low price and extra value offered by Frigidaire

BEFORE you buy any automatic refrigerator, compare the price of Frigidaire with that of other makes. Whatever the model, Frigidaire prices are remarkably low... made so by General Motors buying power and economical methods of production. And low price is not all. Frigidaire offers mechanical superiority. Rugged power. Striking beauty. Proven dependability. It offers features of extra value in every model... value that marks Frigidaire as today's outstanding automatic refrigerator.

Make your own ice-box a Frigidaire
If you have a good refrigerator, you can easily enjoy the benefits of automatic refrigeration. Frigidaire cooling equipment can be easily and simply installed. The cost is small. Easy monthly payments arranged to suit your purse. Ask for complete information.

Freezes plenty of ice cubes ... between meals

Atlanta's climatic conditions mean nothing to Frigidaire, except perhaps to further emphasize its high efficiency. Frigidaire's insulation is real "heat-armor"... its doors are tightly sealed. All models are equipped with mechanical units powered to freeze all the ice cubes you can use... between meals... no matter how hot the weather may be. And while ice is freezing, foods are kept at exactly the proper temperature.

The new Tu-Tone Frigidaires are unsurpassed in beauty. Gray and white porcelain enamel finish... etched hardware of new design

... spotlessly clean and easily kept clean. To match this beauty is remarkable quietness of operation. Yet quietness is not achieved at the cost of lessened power or reduced accessibility of working parts.

And the same factors that make Frigidaire quiet also make it low in operating cost. Working parts are self-oiled. And each is big enough to assure satisfactory performance at all times without burdening the motor or causing it to use an undue amount of current.

A few dollars down
General Motors terms make any Frigidaire easy to buy. Pay just a few dollars down. Then cover the balance with small monthly sums, arranged to suit income. Enjoy Frigidaire this summer... for the years to come. See the new models at our showroom. Come in today.

When you buy Frigidaire, you deal with a direct factory branch. Our force is factory-trained. Our activities are confined strictly to Frigidaire, and the assurance of satisfaction to Frigidaire users. We are prepared to render service... should it ever be needed... day or night, seven days a week. This fact is important. It means that the Frigidaire Corporation stands directly responsible for the dependable service of every Frigidaire installed in Atlanta.

DUFFEE-FREEMAN OPENING PACKED

In response to an invitation issued in connection with the formal opening of its palatial new store at Broun and Hunter streets in the quarters formerly occupied by the Davidson-Paxon company, thousands of Atlantans Monday visited the magnificent new home of the Duffee-Freeman Furniture company. Throughout the day the visitors poured into the store, and at night the biggest crowd was on hand to witness the ceremony which formally launched it in its commercial career. At 8 o'clock Monday night the store was dedicated with brief addresses by Mayor I. N. Hagdale, the Rev. H. J. Muncie, pastor of the First Baptist church, Deacon of the Rev. Wallace Rogers, of Trinity Methodist church, and Rabbi David Marx, of the temple. A program of special entertainment then was broadcast over WSB from the main floor of the new store. Throughout the day and night Vick

Meyers orchestra provided music on the mezzanine of the store, and on each floor, orthophonic Victrolas and Electro-las kept up a constant stream of the latest selections. Officials of the Duffee-Freeman company were on hand to welcome all visitors, and the store was banked high with flowers sent by business and personal friends of the company.

The new Duffee-Freeman store, said to be the largest in the southeast exclusively devoted to home furnishings, has been completely remodeled, and is handily decorated. It consists of seven floors and a big shipping basement, affording over 175,000 square feet of display space.

Officials of the company are Paul Duffee, George P. Freeman, Sr., Grady Duffee and George P. Freeman, Junior.

NIX AND ROOT HEAD ROTARY DISTRICTS

Nomination of Abit Nix, well-known Athens attorney, as governor for the Rotary district of Georgia, and Harry Root, of Tampa, as governor of the Florida district, marked the division of the old thirty-ninth district of Rotary international. Monday at the opening session here of the last conference that will be held by Rotarians of these two states as one district.

Robertson T. Arnold, of Jacksonville, Fla., is the retiring governor of the district which is being divided into two independent districts, with that of Georgia to be known as the thirty-ninth, and Florida as the thirty-eighth.

Scheduled as the highlight of Monday's convention, entertainment was the annual governor's ball, held at the Waldorf-Astoria. With some 500 delegates attending the convention, and their wives and guests bringing the figure up to over 1,000, the annual ball was one of the most brilliant events of its kind to be held in Atlanta this year.

Frank Delivers Address.
Besides nomination of district governors at the Monday session, the business session was featured by an address by Marcel Franck, noted performer of Paris, France, and a director of Rotary international, and other addresses by Robert L. Foreman, president of the Atlanta club, who welcomed the visitors, and Clayton S. Cooper, of the Miami club, who responded to the welcome.

The Rotarians for governors of Georgia and Florida districts will be formally elected at the international convention. Throughout America and Canada this spring conferences are to be held for 52 districts, each of which names their own governor for the formal election at the international convention.

Mr. Franck, in his address before the local conference, pointed to the work being done by Rotary as one of the factors that will help solve the problems now facing the nations of the world. "Though the shortening of distances has often fused the interests of peoples, it has not yet fused their sentiments," the noted French manufacturer asserted. "Economic interdependence has not created intellectual interdependence. The discussions in congresses have shown that the differences in mentality are more difficult to handle than the differences in interests."

"That is the problem facing the world, the problem which Rotary has set out to solve by creating among its members, through active cooperation in common ideals, innumerable ties of interest and sympathy. Mr. Franck pointed to the real expansion of Rotary clubs being made in Europe.

Today's meeting will terminate the two-day session. Besides the discussion groups and business sessions, the entertainment program of the convention includes many trips out this section.

Mayor Anxious To Save Elsas Offer for City

Hope that the city will be able to match the offer of $100,000 made by Jacob Elsas three years ago for establishment of a pay ward at Grady hospital was expressed Monday by Mayor J. N. Hagdale on his return to Atlanta after a trip to Little Rock, Ark., with the Confederate veterans.

Advised that Mr. Elsas has addressed a letter to council asking for a definite decision in the matter in order that he may dispose of the offer one way or the other, Mayor Hagdale said that he would insist that the finance committee of council find a way of raising the funds to match the Elsas offer.

Approximately $200,000 will have to be provided by the city to complete the amount needed for the hospital, but the mayor feels sure that an appropriation of $35,000 to $50,000 this year will be satisfactory, with the balance to be provided in the next few years.

"The pay ward should be built, and I am going to do everything in my power to that end," he said.

MAN WHO BOUGHT QUART BOUND OVER BY COMMISSIONER

Walter Johnson bought a quart of whisky from a small boy, but he had the bad luck to be suspected by police officers as he passed them at Fort and Green streets with the "live soldier" wrapped in newspaper, he told United States Commissioner E. S. Griffith at a preliminary hearing Monday. He was held for the federal grand jury under $200 bond to charges of possessing liquor.

In another case before Judge Griffith Monday, the commissioner's widespread acquaintance revealed the real identity of a defendant who tried to pass under an alias, it was said. When the defendant was brought in for trial under the name of Mason, Judge Griffith immediately recognized him as Robert Lee Davenport, and bound him over to the grand jury for alleged transportation and possession of 70 gallons of whisky. Davenport, who was arrested in DeKalb county, was held under $500 bond for the grand jury.

Alice Thomas, a comely young woman from Clayton county, was charged with possession of a gallon of whisky in a charred keg and three quarts of whisky in bottles. Officers testified that when they made the raid her father was ill in bed. Judge Griffith set her bond at $500.

Griff Freeman, who was arrested on Mayson-Turner road, and charged with possessing six gallons and 13 bottles of home brew, admitted the charges and was held for the grand jury under $100.

A. M. E. SHAPES WORK IN YEARLY CONFERENCE
Chicago, May 14.—(Special.)—The work of the general conference of the African Methodist Episcopal church is taking on definite form through the committees. Home Refrigeration Is Next Scientific Feat, Says McElhinny

Chalk up another forward step for science—which has produced the airplane, automobile, radio, telephone, electrical refrigeration and countless other modern machines that make life comfortable.

This time it's mechanical cooling of houses.

In a few years the model home will provide a machine to cool it in summer just as it now includes a furnace for winter heat. And heat will provide the motive power for cooling the home of tomorrow.

W. D. McElhinny, vice president in charge of sales for Copeland Products, Detroit, makers of electric refrigerators, Monday told of the coming innovation during a visit to Atlanta.

"My company now is manufacturing Silica Gel, a new refrigeration apparatus based on capillary action," he said. "For cooling of big commercial refrigerators. Later we'll make Silica Gel for homes, so that in summer a fire will be kept going in the furnace to cool the home just as it heats the house in winter."

"The great trouble then will be to break people from the old habit of opening their doors and windows. When home refrigeration comes into its own, doors and windows will be used only for ventilation, as they are employed in winter."

"We are now making the first home unit of Silica Gel, soon to be exhibited in Columbus, Ohio. It is surely the forerunner of a tremendous development in its line. For years we have experimented on the machine and it is entirely successful. Used in a box car, it enabled us in a test to ship a carload of fish from Groton, Mass., to Port Worth, Texas, with only a small gas burner providing refrigeration and without losing a fish by decay."

Mr. McElhinny spent Monday in Atlanta on business of Copeland Products, makers of the famous Copeland electric refrigerators. He has been conducting sales group conventions in many southern cities, and left Monday night to hold one in Asheville today. While here he visited the electric refrigeration store of the Storch Furniture company on Mitchell street.

"The Storch company, our sole distributor here," he said, "has a wonderful exclusive electric refrigeration, established only a short time ago. It has everything in the way of stock, service and facilities to recommend it most highly to Atlanta and this section."

Business all over the country is in excellent condition, Mr. McElhinny said, adding that conditions in the south are the most stable of any section of the country.

"Our factory is running seven days and seven nights a week," he said, "and we find that the whole nation is in splendid shape."

ENTOMOLOGY FUNDS TO GO INTO TREASURY

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.
Funds totaling $5,704 and held by two Atlanta banks to the credit of the state department of entomology will be paid into the state treasury at once under the terms of a resolution passed unanimously at a meeting of the board Monday. It was announced by Eugene Talmadge, state commissioner of agriculture and ex-officio chairman.

Mr. Talmadge stated that the board's action would bring to an end the tie-up in funds that has prevailed for several months through disagreement between himself and the other two members of the board as to the disposition of the money.

The commissioner contended, he explained, that the funds should have been turned into the treasury at the close of the past year, in keeping with the Neill act.

Additionally, the commissioner said, the board passed a resolution today providing that in the future all funds received by the department shall be paid into the treasury within 30 days.

Members of the board, besides Mr. Talmadge, are James P. Hogg, Buena Vista, and Dr. Lyman B. Veeder, of Cornell.

MAN WHO BOUGHT QUART BOUND OVER BY COMMISSIONER

Walter Johnson bought a quart of whisky from a small boy, but he had the bad luck to be suspected by police officers as he passed them at Fort and Green streets with the "live soldier" wrapped in newspaper, he told United States Commissioner E. S. Griffith at a preliminary hearing Monday. He was held for the federal grand jury under $200 bond to charges of possessing liquor.

In another case before Judge Griffith Monday, the commissioner's widespread acquaintance revealed the real identity of a defendant who tried to pass under an alias, it was said. When the defendant was brought in for trial under the name of Mason, Judge Griffith immediately recognized him as Robert Lee Davenport, and bound him over to the grand jury for alleged transportation and possession of 70 gallons of whisky. Davenport, who was arrested in DeKalb county, was held under $500 bond for the grand jury.

Alice Thomas, a comely young woman from Clayton county, was charged with possession of a gallon of whisky in a charred keg and three quarts of whisky in bottles. Officers testified that when they made the raid her father was ill in bed. Judge Griffith set her bond at $500.

Griff Freeman, who was arrested on Mayson-Turner road, and charged with possessing six gallons and 13 bottles of home brew, admitted the charges and was held for the grand jury under $100.

Gov. and Mrs. Hardman Honor Valdosta Double Quartette

Honoring the double quartette of Valdosta, which is attending the convention of the thirty-ninth district of Rotary clubs, in session here, and which has sung on previous occasions at international meetings of that body, Governor and Mrs. L. G. Hardman entertained at an informal reception and musicale Monday evening at the executive mansion on the Prado.

A profusion of magnificent red peonies shading to pink and rose ornamented the mansion, which was thrown en-suite for the occasion. A handsome silver epergne on the table in the long hall was filled with those handsome flowers. The dining room table was ornamented with a profusion of the red peonies, around which were planted at artistic intervals silver candlesticks holding pink unshaded tapers which cast a soft glow over the scene.

The members of the quartette, who habitually prove one of the delightful features of Rotary conventions, are: James Dasher, George Sherman, John Mathis, Robert Harris, Emory Bass, Harry Stump, Lloyd Greer, Robert Stump and Jack Lockhart. They rendered a delightful musical program including classical and popular numbers during the evening.

Those receiving the guests included Governor and Mrs. Hardman, the Valdosta quartette, and Mrs. Pasco Palmer. Among those who assisted in entertaining were: Mrs. C. F. Hood, of Commerce; Mrs. H. O. Willford and Miss Emma Griffin Hardman, daughter of Governor and Mrs. Hardman; Little Miss Sue Colquitt Hardman, another daughter, served punch.

A number of the wives of members of the quartette were present, including: Mesdames George Sherman, Robert Harris, Harry Stump and Emory Bass. Jasper Newton, of Valdosta, father of Mrs. Hardman, was among the guests who enjoyed this delightful but informal affair.

Miss Casaday Is Entertained At Parties Before Departure

Fort McPherson, Ga., May 14.—Mrs. Robert S. Moore entertained Monday afternoon at a bridge-tea at her quarters in the garrison in honor of Miss Margaret Casaday, who leaves June 1 for San Francisco. American beauty roses, sweetpeas and tall candles were used effectively. The tea table was overlaid with an exquisite embroidered cloth wrought by nuns in a French convent and centered with a silver basket filled with the same fragrant blossoms. Mrs. Charles Gans served punch and Mrs. Cyril Chandler served salad. As a souvenir of the occasion, Mrs. Moore presented Miss Casaday with a framed verse, "Friendship's Road." Invited to meet the fair honoree were a number of her special friends who came by bridge and were joined at the tea hour by several of the bachelor officers of the garrison. The guests included Mesdames Charles Gans, Cyril Chandler, Stanley Blanton, Harry J. Keeley, Robert G. Turner, Misses Lucile Olive Gaines, Katharine Ripley, Dorothy Telbets, Lieutenant Edward H. During their two years spent at the garrison the Casadays have taken an active part in the social life of the garrison and their many friends regret the loss of this popular group. Miss Margaret Casaday, who has been a popular member of the junior set, will be the inspiration for a number of entertainments during the month.

Mrs. Cyril Chandler returned Sunday to the post after an enjoyable stay with her mother, Mrs. S. J. Baker, at her home in Nashville, Ga. Mrs. Chandler was accompanied home by her small son, Bobby, who is an admired member of the very sub-junior set of the garrison.

The polo enthusiasts among the army group returned late Sunday evening or early Monday from Fort Benning, Ga., where they attended games between the post teams, the Horse Guards and the infantry teams. Features of the week-end were the hop at the Officer's club at Fort Benning and the polo teas of Friday and Sunday afternoons. Among the members who spent the week-end were Major and Mrs. G. H. Mrs. Lowmire Is Low Fledalist in Women's City Tourney

Turns in Card Of 94 To Win First Honors

Winds Send Scores High on First Day Over East Lake Course.

BY WHITNER CARY.

One more prize was added Monday morning to the large collection already adorning the trophy room of Mrs. Helen Dargen Lowmire when this former southern champion, with a 92, won the low qualifying honor in the annual Atlanta Women's Golf association city tournament at East Lake. Considering the class of the field, which contained the names of every good female golfer in Atlanta, the qualifying scores were rather high. A gusty wind that swept the course throughout the morning had made much to do with the high scoring. With hardly an exception, all the ladies seemed to have had considerable trouble with their putters. At least it was this department of their play that was the cause of the high scores.

Constant Golf.

Mrs. Lowmire, while not playing at the peak of her game, was still shooting a fairly consistent brand of golf. Her putting and iron play made up for several mistakes made with the tee. In fact it was her rather easy work with her driver that kept Mrs. Lowmire's score from being considerably lower.

While the epidemic of poor putting assailed practically every entry, this fatal malady launched the most violent attack on Mrs. Lowmire May 13. In fact it was her rather easy work with her driver that kept Mrs. Lowmire's score from being considerably lower.

Match play begins Tuesday morning with the first of four matches offering the feature attraction. The pairings follow:

Lightweight Title Battle on Thursday

New York, May 14.—(AP)—While the heavyweight champion, Gene Tunney, has gone into the seclusion of his private life, the sportsworld has been waiting for the season's biggest fight since the fight between the two champions, the "Baby Face" Jimmy McLarnin, of California, and Sammy Mandell, of the Rockford, Ill.

Mandell will take his wife's title out of storage and defend it in a 15-round match against the sharp-shooting young Irishman who won it from him in 1923.

McLarnin, although the challenger, probably will enter the ring a slight favorite over sleek-haired Sammy. This will be due largely to the fact that the shiftless Irishman has been more in the limelight, battling his way to the top in sparkling fashion, but also because he possesses that unfading "gate" magnetism the rock.

McLarnin's sensational rise has done more to restore interest in and prestige to the lightweight division than any single factor since Leonard's retirement. There have been a lot of entertaining lightweighters—Terry, Goldstein, Wallace, McGraw, Vincent, Loxley, and others—but the championship crop has been below standard.

Decline.

The decline set in with Leonard's retirement. Jimmy Goodrich, who claimed the champion after a New York elimination tournament, Rocky Kanaka and Mandell have done little to uphold the prestige of a division that has boasted such a line of kings as Leonard, Welch, Eitche, Volgas, Nelson, McAuliffe and others.

For all his inactivity in title competition, however, Mandell will be in from an early crack for McLarnin and his famous K. O. punch, in the estimation of most critics.

As a matter of fact Mandell's record is better than McLarnin's. The former has won 15 of 16 fights, while the latter has won 14 of 15. McLarnin has been better than McLarnin's.

McLarnin's lightning-like thrusts, if they connect, will be sufficient to crown a new king.

Reigh Count Stands Out After Victory Monday

BY WHITNER CARY.

While trouble and worry may be in wait for them just a short time before Saturday's sun bids farewell to Churchill Downs, the fact remains that as these lines are typed nothing but joy and bliss looms in the pathway of those sportively and speculatively inclined citizens who have invested part, if not all, of their worldly goods and chattels on the chances of Reigh Count showing the way to the rest of the bunch in the forthcoming Kentucky Derby.

Two happenings of recent date add to their already boundless confidence. First, news has seeped through that the Reigh Count, the price of the Whitney stable, full brother to Whiskery and winner of the Preakness, has turned his equine nostrils toward the New York tracks and will not inhale the blue grass aroma at this time. Second, and more to the point, Reigh Count Monday afternoon stepped the mile and a sixteenth of the Mammoth (the best of the very valuable ones) 1:45.25 and finished out the full Derby distance in 2:45.25. Now this kind of time is extremely desirable to those who may be trying to find some horse to beat the much-heralded favorite.

Good Chance.

After looking over the account to the Prekness and seeing what a really wonderful race Victorian ran, one could almost argue himself into the good chance of repeating the 1927 triumph. In the Maryland classic the favorite, Reigh Count, won by 1.58 seconds. He set a dizzy pace from the rise of the barrier and disposed of the field in the stretch and leading 4.5 over a track that was a second slow to the mile. But this great Whitney racer did even more than that. He was in the stretch and leading the bunch, he was confronted with a new challenge from none other than the gelding of E. R. McLean, a stable. Toro who had been held off the terrific pace came with a great rush in the final furlong. For just a happy journey might be termed the four puts she took on number two and the unfashionable time she required on the ninth, such good as this really means for it is absolutely foreign to the usually splendid game produced by the defending champion.

Almost as impressive was the great showing made Monday by Reigh Count in the Mammoth Cup race at a mile and a sixteenth. It is almost a fact that if the hopes of the victors have turned in a similar performance they may have been left by their backers to do but stand in line at the pay-off window.

But there is another angle that some may overlook. The mere fact that Reigh Count turned in such a great performance five days before the supreme test may be the death knell to his Derby hopes.

Now that performance by Victorian is bound to create respect and to make one wonder if he could not take the measure of the mighty Reigh Count. But all such speculation goes for naught now that the Whitney stable has decided not to send him to the Downs.

Giants Drop To 4th Place In National

Third Straight Loss Sends New Yorkers Tumbling As Cubs Go Up.

Chicago, May 14.—(United News.) The New York Giants dropped with a resounding thud into fourth place in the National League race today when they made their third straight loss to the Chicago Cubs. The score was 8 to 2.

It was the Cubs' ninth straight victory, a streak of wins that brought the club up from seventh position to one game behind the league-leading Cincinnati Reds.

The Giants came to Chicago Saturday in first position and held to fourth place in the fourth game of the series. The victory of Chicago and that of the St. Louis Cardinals today allowed the Cubs to move up to second place in league standings. St. Louis moved up to first in a ninth-inning rally, 4 to 3.

Cuba Helps Cubs.

Root allowed the Giants but six hits and only once during the game were the visitors in the fourth. It was in the third inning, when they scored two runs to take a margin of one run, but their lead was short-lived. The Cubs came back in their half of that inning to score two runs and go to the lead, increased it by two runs in the fourth, and added an additional two in the seventh.

Fitzsimmons started for the Giants but was knocked out of the box in the fourth inning, after which the Cubs had enough runs to win. The last two Chicago runs were made at the expense of Bill Walker.

Cohen and Jackson, main cogs in the Giant infield, helped the Cubs along immeasurably in the fatal fourth inning, when they doubled to Reese, who threw to Cohen, but the latter dropped the ball, allowing both runners to reach base safely.

Cohen Allowed Score.

Cohen's other error in the first proved the way for Chicago's initial run. The Giant second-sacker tumbled home after a roller and Cohen scored a moment later when Walker lined a triple off the left-field wall.

New York's two runs were made in the third when Terry doubled down the right-field line to send Ott and Reese across the plate.

Twenty thousand fans, attracted by the remarkable performance of the Cubs during the past week, witnessed today's game.

The final game of the series with the Giants will be played Tuesday.

Manager McGraw Struck by Auto

Chicago, May 14.—(AP)—John McGraw, manager of the New York Giants baseball club, suffered a slight injury to his right leg when grazed by an automobile, after the Cubs' game today.

McGraw was crossing the street in front of Wrigley field park to enter a taxicab when the automobile clipped him. Examination revealed no broken bones. He was confined to a hotel room tonight and may not be on the field for tomorrow's game.

The driver of the automobile that struck him was not held.

Moore Wins Over Kid Miller Here

Richard Moore, of the Atlanta university, battled his way to the decision over Kid Miller, local colt, Monday night before a large crowd at the colored Elks' Rest in the main event of the weekly card staged by the Rooper.

In one of the eight-rounders, Cowboy Kid defeated Kid Wilkett, ex-soldier from Fort Benning, in a fast bout. In the other championship event, Jackson and Henry fought to a draw. This bout was full of action, both fighters being about evenly matched.

A young scrapper fighting under the name of "Stew Meat" was his preliminary bout from an unknown boy.

Semi-Finals Are Reached By Net Stars

Simpson, Merry and Gault Win Matches in Local Tourney.

Playing the same consistent brand of tennis that marked their work in the early rounds, Jack Simpson and E. Merry reached the semi-finals Monday afternoon in the spring tournament of the Atlanta Tennis club.

Simpson gained his semi-final bracket at the expense of Sid Golden, whom he defeated, 6-4, 7-5. Merry advanced at the expense of Lewis Enloe, whom he vanquished, 6-4, 7-5.

These matches were the feature events of the day that saw play progress in both the singles and doubles.

Simpson ran wild in the first set against Golden and before Sid could concentrate his forces had run the set out at love. Golden improved greatly in the second set and finally won it 7-5.

Merry and Gault won their match in the first set, 6-4, 7-5. They were defeated in the second set, 7-5, 6-3.

New Orleans, May 14.—(AP)—The cotton market developed considerable activity today, prices showing a substantial decline under heavy selling induced by unfavorable weather reports and a bearish cotton market.

The general market closed steadily, net 23 to 24 points down.

Liverpool cables were 8 to 9 points lower than this, that market being influenced downward by reports of the rains in the western drought section.

First trades showed losses of 25 to 35 points and the market continued downward after the start on selling prompted by the western rains until July traded at 20.45, October 20.20 and December 20.15, or 20 to 43 points below the Saturday's close.

Following a brief rally the market weakened again on the census bureau's consumption total for April of only 525,158 bales, all positions making new lows for the month.

Port receipts today 15,745; for week 22,516; for month 155,435; for season 1,255,172. Exports today 1,402,431.

Manila, May 14.—(AP)—An important development in the market during the past week has been the rise in price of raw cotton, especially in American cotton. The strong upward movement has been due to a continuance of unfavorable reports from the United States and undoubtedly the crop is being adversely affected by heavy rains and unfavorable climatic conditions.

It is recognized, however, that a period of fine weather would have a marked effect upon the outlook for the growth and in the circumstances numerous traders are cautious.

Negotiations Fall.—Another event of moment has been the complete breakdown of the negotiations between the employers and the trade union officials on the hours and wages question. In reply to the representations of the employers, the trade union officials have stated that they are not prepared to negotiate with regard to a reduction in wages and with relation to some modification of the existing agreements with regard to cleaning and oiling machinery the trade union would have to be arranged between the Operative Spinners' association and the Master Spinners' federation.

It remains to be seen what further action will be taken by the employers, but it is rumored that the spinning masters have decided to recommend that a month's notice of a wages reduction be given at once to the trade union officials. Some of the employers in the situation are expected at the end of this week.

Strike Is Seen.—It is taken for granted that if the employers press a claim of this kind, the work people will come out on strike. In the circumstances, the labor situation is causing some anxiety.

The industry in general has been forced out as a result of the hardening of prices but a large part of the demand for the product has been at unworkable rates.

There are indications of larger buying in domestic early date and rather more bids are now coming.

REPORTS OF RAIN.

CAUSE DECLINE.—The general market closed steady, at net declines of 23 to 24 points.

The market opened steady at a decline of 25 points under heavy selling induced by unfavorable weather reports and a bearish cotton market.

Some fresh commission house buying was reported also, on apprehensions that the southwestern rains might curtail the cotton crop.

There was a great deal of liquidation of old long accounts on the decline, while there was probably selling of new accounts on the improvement in droughty sections of the southwest, and also on the report of the census bureau placing domestic consumption for April at only 525,158 bales, compared with 581,218 for March and 618,279 for April last year.

Consumption Falls Off.—A falling off in the consumption figures had been expected, but the report was evidently smaller than anticipated. The improvement in droughty sections of the southwest, and also on the report of the census bureau placing domestic consumption for April at only 525,158 bales, compared with 581,218 for March and 618,279 for April last year.

Shower Beneficial.—In the opinion of some traders, showers might be rather more beneficial than otherwise in eastern and southern sections of the belt, where moisture is said to be needed to bring up recently replanted seed, but in the general market, the improvement in droughty sections of the southwest, and also on the report of the census bureau placing domestic consumption for April at only 525,158 bales, compared with 581,218 for March and 618,279 for April last year.

Exports Today 14,558 bales, making 6,696,825 for this season. Port receipts, 15,745; for week 22,516; for month 155,435; for season 1,255,172. Exports today 1,402,431.
